

ICT FOR A GLOBAL SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

How ICT can durably contribute to the wellbeing of all citizens around the world

International Conference
European Commission – Brussels
January 22 – 23, 2009

Biography

Session II: Future directions for EU ICT research
Session chair: Fabrizio Sestini
Day II - January 23, 2009

Martin Curley is Senior Principal Engineer and Global Director of IT Innovation at Intel Corporation managing a network of IT Innovation centres catalyzing worldwide IT Innovation. Curley is also the incoming Director of Intel Labs Europe. Previously Martin has held a number of senior IT Management and Research positions for Intel and also at General Electric and Philips. Martin has a degree in Electronic Engineering, a Masters in Business Studies from University College Dublin, Ireland and a PhD in Information Systems from the National University of Ireland, Maynooth.

Martin is author of “Managing Information Technology for Business Value” published by Intel Press, January 04 and co-author of “Managing IT Innovation for Business Value” published in 2007 by Intel Press.

Martin is Professor of Technology and Business Innovation at the National University of Ireland, Maynooth and co-Director of the Innovation Value Institute, helping lead a unique industry-academic open innovation consortium to advance IT management and innovation. Martin is a fellow of the Institution of Engineers of Ireland and the British Computer Society.